International Court of Justice

---

Weekly Report

Madame Congressman,

The United States of America's treatment of refugees, on the border with Mexico, violates international law. International law dictates that host countries cannot torture refugees and asylum seekers. However, thousands of refugees face separation from their families on your southern border. According to researchers, children subject to this separation obtain long term traumatic issues. Therefore, I implore you to create legislation that stops subjecting children to this torture. Please cease all separations and reunite the families that you already separated. I ask, as the President of the International Court of Justice, that you ensure the humane treatment of all people according to international law.

Thank you,

Michael Martinez
