Situation

As a result of the 11/16 Russia/Iran backed attacks on Paris, Alternative for Germany has seen an explosion in support primarily predicated on Russophobia and Islamophobia. Several AfD chapters have begun forming paramilitary wings who have openly called for a nuclear exchange. Ukraine has seen an influx of as many as 7,000 suspected Neo-Nazi alligned volunteers from Romania, Poland, Hungary, and Germany presumably connected to the Asov Battalion.

Recommended Action

War fervor is conducive to enabling extra ordinary war time measures necessary to successfully navigating this crisis, however extremism regardless of positioning presents a clear security risk. Groups which may seek to undermine the long term success of U.S. operations should be infiltrated and assessed for long term risk, especially considering the ideological undertones of the subject matter.
